Dark Formation

Picture Description<sup>1)</sup>

A monochromatic photograph features silhouettes of birds flying across a white sky against the backdrop of a tall building's exterior.

Analysis<sup>1)</sup>

This starkly contrasting photograph presents a flock of birds in silhouette against a bright white sky, with the geometric, textured facade of a building intruding from the right. The birds, of varying sizes and poses, create a sense of movement and freedom, while the building's heavy, shadowed form adds a grounding weight and a suggestion of the urban environment. The photograph evokes a feeling of tension between the natural world and the human-built environment.
