Dystopia III

Picture Description¹⁾

A view from inside a car driving down a highway with the sun shining brightly in the sky.

Analysis¹⁾
